PLAN TO ORGANIZE ALEXANDRIA WORKERS

Immigration Commissioner to Speak at Meeting Friday Night.

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 15.—Commissioner General Anthony Cam-panelli, chief of the Bureau of Immigration, will be the principal speaker at a meeting which is scheduled to be held at 8 o'clock Friday night, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at which time preliminary plans will be mapped out for the organization of a branch of the Men's Federated Council of Employment. It is reported that a similar effort for women may also be organized at the same time.

Others expected to be present and make addresses include Edwin M.
Kline, director of employment, and Mrs. Grace Porter Hopkins, superintendent of the women's and girls' division of the United States Employment Service, Department of Labor, and E. A. Lyette, superintendent of Employment, Washington Steel and Iron Company.

Charles H. L., 33 years old, who was employed as a letter carrier at the postoffice, died shortly before 7 o'clock this morning at the Alexandria Hospital, to which institution he was taken last night.
The deceased had been in failing health for some time. Mr. L. was unmarried and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bittle. In addition to his parents, two sisters and a brother are living. Mr. Bittle's body was removed to his late home, 1711 Oronoco street, and prepared for burial.

The deceased entered the postal service as a substitute carrier April 1, 1913, and was appointed regular carrier January 1, 1916, and since then had been assigned to the Del Ray route.

The second inspection of the ninety-one gardens in the city, whose owners have entered the competition for the best kept gardens was begun today. After the process of elimination from the contest from the Chamber of Commerce will make a final inspection and it is expected the awards will be made September 3. T. T. Preston made the preliminary inspection.

A big tug on the river this afternoon, which is thought by some to have been experimenting with a smoke screen, attracted considerable attention.

Corporation Attorney H. Noel Garner, was operated on for appendicitis last night at Providence Hospital, Washington. His condition is regarded as very satisfactory.

The Knights of Columbus Dramatic Club, of Washington, under the direction of Francis P. J. Cleary, will furnish the program for the soldiers at the weekly entertainment, Thursday night, in the Young Men's Society Lyceum Hall, for the soldiers.

Mrs. Robert Megath, who lived near Franconia, Fairfax County, Va., died tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the Alexandria Hospital, after a long illness. Her husband and several children are living. The body was removed to Demaine's undertaking establishment, and prepared for burial.

Services in observance of the feast of the Assumption were held yesterday at St. Mary's Catholic Church.
Masses were said at 6 and 9 o'clock.
Rev. E. V. Regeater, D. D., pastor of the M. E. Church South, accompanied by his wife and grandson, Eldridge R. Duffey, departed today for Virginia Beach.

WASHINGTON AVIATOR CAPTURED IN FRANCE

Forced to land behind the German lines, Lieut. C. E. French, son of Dr. and Mrs. Cecil French, of this city, attached to the British Flying Corps in France, is now a prisoner of war at Karlsruhe, Germany, according to news received by relatives here yesterday.

In a recent engagement Lieut.
French's machine was struck and disabled and he was compelled to come to earth behind the enemy's front-line trenches. Mr. French was a Belgian at the time of the first German invasion. A few months later he qualified as an aviator and obtained his commission.

"Good Morning, Judge"

Human Interest Stories of Police Court Happenings.

By
RUDOLPH
PERKINS

A "Peppery" Affair.
Mattie Brown told the court that Mary Neal threw a bottle of red pepper in her face last Saturday night when Mary is supposed to have gone around to Mattie's house to see if her husby was there. Mattie got a dose of red pepper alright, but who did it?
Mary said she was doing her marketing Saturday night and didn't get home till late. She did say, however, that one day three weeks ago she went to Mattie's house, rapped on the front door, ran quickly around to the back door and her hubby ran into her arms.

But as for last Saturday night Mary had plenty of witnesses that she was at the market as she said, but Mattie said different. In fact Mattie was possitive that Mary tilted her face with the pepper. But the weight of evidence was on Mary's side and she was set free.

Ruthless Ruth.
If Ruth Bailey hadn't made a face at a cop and showed her two gold teeth she could have saved the price of some summer furs. Tuesday evening she passed a cop and she just couldn't resist the temptation to turn up her nose and stick her tongue out at him. That is why the cop remembered her, as he couldn't imagine what he had done to deserve such treatment.

This was on K street northwest. An hour later and Ruth was having some words with another woman because she stumbled over a go-cart in the street and then hit the woman with an umbrella and made a bump on her head. Bessie Malvin, the offended party, hunted a cop and described Ruth. Not long after Ruth was shocked to find herself in the jug and still further shocked to be out a $10 bail.

That Last Word.
Just as she was about to say something scandalous to another woman, Jessie Ford was interrupted by a cop.
He told her to move on and shut up.
Jessie was boiling mad; she still had this in her system and until she got rid of it, she wouldn't feel at all pleasant. The cop knew this, and he told her to move on and shut up. Jessie and urged her on away from the scene.

When she reached the corner, what she didn't say to that cop Mr. Webster would be surprised to learn that he left out of the dictionary. Other people who had caused cops stood around and wondered why they never thought of the same words. The cop stood it for a minute and clapped his hand over Jessie's mouth. He was even he was shocked. Jessie was mad because she thought she had a perfect right the same as any other woman to have the last word, but it seems that the court had the last word when it fined her $10.

A Backyard Dissertation.
"This woman thowed dirt all in mah yard and cussed me," said Fannie Wilson. Pearl said nothing at this, because inwardly she knew that Fannie wasn't telling the truth. Fannie had a party one night and some of her visitors threw some empty sar-dine cans over in Pearl's yard, and she pitched them back.

Pearl told Fannie that her yard was not the District dump, and Fannie said something naughty. This started the fracas, and some man in Fannie's house insulted Pearl, and Pearl told the whole bunch what she thought of them, even though it wasn't at all complimentary. It was a case of six of one and half-dozen of the other, and Pearl went home smiling.

GOVERNMENT LANDS FOR ENTRY SEPT. 20

12,000 Acres Will Be Put at Disposal of Homesteaders.

Having completed the necessary irrigation works, the Reclamation Service announces the opening to entry on September 20 of approximately 12-000 acres of good agricultural lands in the Shoshone project, Wyoming.
Nearly one-fourth of the tract has been irrigated by the government and is now in crop ready to be harvested.
Climate and soil are adapted to growing wheat, oats, alfalfa, sugar beets, potatoes, and other hardy vegetables. In 1916 average gross returns per acre from potatoes were $154.
Other crops as follows: Garden truck, $85; small fruits, $85; sugar beets, $70; beans, $45; and alfalfa, $35. For all crops grown on 20,000 acres the average per acre was $31. Stock-raising and dairying are prominent and profitable industries.

Home-seekers should visit the project before the date of opening in order to inspect the farms and file necessary papers. The project manager of the Reclamation Service is at Powell, Wyo., where maps and blanks for full information concerning the methods of making entry may be obtained.

The home-seeker must qualify as a citizen of the United States, must comply with the homestead requirements, and must contract with the government to repay in twenty years, without interest, the construction charge. The first installment of the construction charge is 5 per cent, or $25 per acre, and is payable at the time of filing.

Thief Makes Escape With Gasoline Engine

Washington police set out yesterday to find a thief who they believe must be a lineal descendant of Samson.
While a watchman and his back turned the thief made off with a gasoline engine belonging to the Bogie Robinson Construction Company, and stored in a hotel basement at Eleventh and E streets northwest. To make up a load worthy of his su-perhuman strength, the thief collected a half-dozen cast-iron stove legs and a haul of copper rivets.

DISTRICT HAS 976 CERTIFIED TO ARMY

Draft Officials Expect to Complete Work Tomorrow.

The District's full quota of 1,022 men for the National Army will be completed some time tomorrow, according to exemption board estimates furnished last night.
When the local board ceased examinations yesterday 779 men had been certified as physically fit for service.

A subcommittee of the exemption boards is making arrangements to house the men immediately after they are certified and before they are sent to cantonments. The National Guard armories will probably be used for this purpose, as Gen.
Harvey declares they are available.
Between the time that the men are summoned and before they go to camp arrangements will be made to have them start their drilling in the District.

Quakers, Menonites and other religious denominations which have conscientious scruples against war will have the membership of their sects drafted into the National Army, according to the latest order from Gen. Crowder.

MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN NOW 80 YEARS OLD

One of the most enthusiastic and active war workers in Washington is Mrs. John A. Logan, who yesterday entered upon her eightieth year.
Few women have had a more intimate acquaintance with military life than Mrs. Logan. Her father was an army officer of considerable renown, whose home she left to become the bride of John A. Logan, who later won fame as a civil war commander and statesman. Her only son, Maj.
John A. Logan, was killed in an engagement with the Filipino insurgents in 1899.

A grandson was among the first to join the colors in the present war.

THE Mitchell Six this year comes in two sizes—Mitchell and Mitchell Junior.
But both belong to a single type, developed by John W. Bate. This is the 19th model. It is the final result of 700 improvements. It represents his ultimate conception. The factory which builds it is a mammoth, model plant. It covers 45 acres, and now includes a modern body plant.

It was built and equipped by John W. Bate to build this one type economically.
His efficiency methods on this year's output will save about $4,000,000.

We urge you to see what extra values these savings have made possible.

The Greatest Extra Means a Lifetime Car

In the past three years Mr. Bate has doubled the margins of safety in Mitchell. The former standard was 50 per cent over-strength. It is now 100 per cent. Over 440 parts are built of toughened steel. All safety parts are vastly oversized. The most important parts are built of Chrome-Vanadium steel. Several Bate-built Mitchells have already run 200,000 miles each. So this new standard, we believe, insures a lifetime car.

It has been two years since we applied that standard to Bate can-lever springs. In all that time, not a single spring has broken. Yet Mitchell owners say that shock absorbers, rebound straps or snubbers are unnecessary to assist easy riding qualities.

31 Extra Features—24% Added Luxury

The latest Mitchell has 31 features which nearly all cars omit.
Things like a power tire pump, reversible headlights, ball-bearing steering gear, dashboard engine primer.

On this year's Mitchells we add 24 per cent to the cost of finish, upholstery and trimming. That makes the Mitchell the luxury car of its class. Our new body-plant savings pay all this extra cost.

The All-Nation Car

The Mitchell commands a world-wide sale. In 1913, Mr. Bate spent an entire year in Europe to study foreign standards.
All over the world the Mitchell is recognized as a superior car.
It is known as "The Engineers' Car" because every detail of construction appeals to engineers.
